

For Immediate Release

September 24, 2010

Springfield IL - For the past several quarters, Solomon Colors Inc. has made a concerted effort to maximize manufacturing efficiencies and to keep costs level in the face of severe increases in our supply chain costs. With the significant cost increases as well as transportation cost increases, Solomon is announcing a 5% – 10% price adjustment effective November 1st 2010 for selected products in all divisions.

Solomon Colors, with global headquarters in Springfield, Illinois and manufacturing and distribution locations across the U.S., is a worldwide supplier of iron oxide pigment and dispensing equipment to the concrete industry. Its divisions, Legacy and Brickform, manufacture a wide variety of products for the decorative concrete industry.

"We are a company built on providing exceptional service to our customers, while focusing on research and development to improve the quality and dependability of every product we manufacture. That mission will continue despite global economic pressures that have affected many in our industry," noted Rich Solomon, President and CEO of Solomon Colors.
